Crozier Turkeys

Crozier Turkeys are producers of 100% free range new Zealand turkeys. The flavour in poultry is closely linked to lifestyle, diet and processing.

Crozier Turkeys are raised outside and exposed to natural light and sunshine. This is important to their health and well being which in turn contributes to flavour. They have room to exercise and don't suffer the stress of being cooped up inside barns and sheds. If it rains they are rounded up and led to shelter, not always an easy job as the Turkeys aren't the brightest birds!

The Turkeys are free to forage for food such as grubs, bugs and grass seeds. Combined with a supply of natural grains, this makes for happy (and tasty) turkeys. The quality of the finished product is due not only to farming methods but also to handling. Careful handling results in a better turkey. Crozier Turkeys are not only hand reared but also hand processed. Crozier Turkeys are not dipped in Chlorine-wash (to make them look perfect) nor injected with oil (so that you congratulate yourself for being an amazing chef with a moist, natural and healthy turkey ... not!)

For Crozier Turkeys there is no alteration to the natural flavour of the product.

Taste the difference from mass produced and barn raised turkeys.
